Q: UITableView not reloading cells I have a UITableView and in the delegate method for didSelectRowAtIndexPath, I'm using a custom cell to display data: -(UITableViewCell *)tableView:(UITableView *)tableView cellForRowAtIndexPath:(NSIndexPath *)indexPath { UITableViewCell *cell = [tableView dequeueReusableCellWithIdentifier:@"MyCell" forIndexPath:indexPath]; if (!cell) { [[NSBundle mainBundle] loadNibNamed:@"MyCell" owner:self options:nil]; } cell.textLabel.text = myMutableArray[indexPath.row]; return cell; } Then in another view I show the table and perform a reload on the table: - (void) viewWillAppear:(BOOL)animated { [super viewWillAppear:animated]; [self.tableView reloadData]; } But nothing happens. The table just doesn't update with the new data, it stays the same. Do I need to completely recreate my UITableView or something? Thanks for any help! A: Your array of data you want to display is mutable, so you need to store it as mutable array, not NSMutableArray. Try to print your array and check if everything is okay with it.
