question to the 2020 census questionnaire. The Census Bureau told the Supreme Court last week that adding the citizenship question to the 2020 census questionnaire would help the bureau achieve its goal of counting every single person living in the U.S. The question has not appeared on the decennial questionnaire since 1950.

The addition of the question could mean that the federal government will not capture accurate data on the number of immigrants living in the U.S. because immigrants are less likely to answer government question
